Executive Summary

PASA (Parent and School Alliance) is a parent-school engagement platform designed to help schools keep parents informed about every important aspect of their children's educational journey.

Schools use PASA to publish school calendars, events, meetings, examinations, tests, extra classes, learner conduct updates and other important information. Parents receive this information through a secure, structured platform linked directly to their children.

By centralising communication between schools and parents, PASA reduces information gaps, improves parent engagement and creates a stronger support system around learners.

PASA has already been developed into a working Minimum Viable Product (MVP) and is currently preparing for pilot adoption.

The Problem

Schools communicate important information through multiple disconnected channels.

These often include:

- Printed letters
- Learner diaries
- WhatsApp groups
- SMS notifications
- Verbal messages carried by learners

This fragmented approach creates several challenges.

Parents frequently miss:

- Parent meetings
- School events
- Examination schedules
- Class tests

- Extra classes
- Important announcements

Schools then spend significant time repeating information, responding to avoidable queries and managing communication failures.

The result is reduced parent engagement and weaker visibility into a learner's educational journey.

The Opportunity

Parents play a critical role in educational success.

When parents are informed and engaged:

- Learners become more accountable
- Academic support improves
- School participation increases
- Communication becomes more effective

Despite the widespread use of smartphones and digital platforms, many schools still rely on outdated communication processes.

There is an opportunity to provide schools and parents with a dedicated platform designed specifically for educational engagement.

The Solution

PASA provides a secure digital platform connecting schools and parents.

The platform enables schools to distribute information while allowing parents to stay informed about matters affecting their children.

Through PASA, parents gain visibility into:

- School calendars
- School events
- Parent meetings
- Examination timetables
- Class tests
- Extra classes
- Learner conduct records
- School announcements
- Academic documents

Instead of relying on multiple communication channels, schools can manage parent engagement from a single platform.

How PASA Works

School Portal

Schools are onboarded into the platform under their relevant province and district.

Each school is assigned administrative users, including:

- Principals
- School Administrators

These users can create additional accounts for teachers and staff members.

Role-based permissions ensure that users only access information relevant to their responsibilities.

School Administration Features

School administrators can manage:

- School opening and closing dates
- Public holidays and cancellations
- School events
- Parent meetings
- General school announcements

Teacher Features

Teachers can manage class-specific information including:

- Examination schedules
- Class tests
- Extra classes
- Learner conduct updates
- Class-related announcements

Parent Portal

Parents register independently on PASA.

After registration, parents can submit a learner-link request by providing:

- Province
- District
- School
- Learner Name
- Learner Number
- Relationship to Learner

The request remains pending until approved by the school.

Once approved, the parent gains access to information relating specifically to that learner.

This process ensures secure verification while allowing schools to remain the source of truth.

What Makes PASA Different

Many communication solutions focus on only one aspect of the school-parent relationship.

PASA focuses on providing a centralised parent engagement experience.

Instead of information being distributed across multiple systems, PASA provides one trusted source for educational updates.

The platform is built around the natural structure of the education system:

Province → District → School → Staff → Learner → Parent

This architecture creates opportunities for future district-level and provincial-level communication initiatives.

Unique Parent Experience

Many parents have children attending different schools.

Managing multiple school calendars and events can be difficult.

PASA is designed to support a unified parent experience.

Future premium functionality will allow the platform to identify scheduling conflicts across multiple schools.

For example:

A parent with children attending different schools may be alerted when parent meetings occur at overlapping times.

This helps families plan more effectively while improving engagement with schools.

Business Model

PASA aims to remain accessible to schools.

The objective is to minimise barriers to adoption while increasing parent engagement.
